Spring in Amsterdam means tulips, canal cruises, and the city-wide orange celebration that is King's Day.

Bike tours, canal-side coworking, local markets, museum visits, and the full-on King's Day street party experience.

Playful, energetic, and picture-perfect. This two-week break from Georgia is all about celebrating spring, community, and culture.

Vibes

Fly in for the world's biggest beer festival — held in Munich every September — with time to explore the Alps or Berlin afterward if you're up for it.

Oktoberfest tents, Bavarian food, traditional dress, day trips to castles or lakes, and cozy coworking in beer gardens.

Festive, hearty, and full of tradition. Ideal for a quick culture-swap and unforgettable memories with your crew.

2 Weeks | Greece

Places

Activities

Vibes

Spend your last two weeks soaking in ancient history and island life. Start in Athens for ruins, rooftop bars, and local eats, then ferry to a quiet island (like Naxos or Paros) for a peaceful wind-down.

Acropolis tours, sunset hikes, beach lounging, taverna dinners, and Mediterranean-style coworking.

Mythical, sun-drenched, and laid-back. October in Greece is still warm and less touristy — ideal for slow living and end-of-trip reflection.

You're about to settle into one of Europe's most underrated gems — Tbilisi — and explore the continent's most iconic events and cities, from King's Day in Amsterdam to Greek island sunsets. This trip is built for remote workers chasing culture, coworking, and connection. Expect a base with strong WiFi and better wine, weekend hikes in the Caucasus, and short hops to Europe's biggest parties, coastlines, and ancient wonders.
